

Pierre Hawinkels, environment manager,
Rijkswaterstaat (department of Public Works)
Limburg about REASeuro:

"I got acquainted with John Blokvoort, because we weren't satisfied with the company that handled explosive detection for us. We never knew beforehand what the financial impact of their activities would be. In 2004 we worked with REASeuro for the first time on the laying-out of Rijksweg 73 (national highway 73).

In the past 4 years REASeuro has proved to be a reliable supplier. For them a deal is a deal. They operate within budget and within the agreed timeframe. This leads not only to a pleasant co-operation, but also enables us to control our budgets better.

Whenever a projects needs to be adapted, REASeuro offers sufficient room to manoeuvre and helps us in finding a good solution.

The project that impressed me most was a ground plan that didn't seem suspicious, but during the execution of the detection turned out to contain an unprecedented number of explosives."
